From the blurring of line between pros and the prosumer, the subscription model, the growing popularity of AR, to the rise of modular gear, here are some of my favorite pieces of gear that I've seen and think are interesting. Please note, all of the gear mentioned in this post is not necessarily geared for EDC purposes, but it does bring some interesting concepts that may be useful. You have probably read or heard about the idea of subscription in audio gear. Subscription is when you pay an annual or bi-annual fee to own the gear you want, without the worry of ever owning it.
