The.Intouchables.2011.720p.Bluray.x264.anoXmous.mp4? A: You seem to be dealing with multiple files (see the line: Counted 71 What you seem to be dealing with is multiple file attachments. This is a sample message I have generated in a mail client where the highlighted words are the base64 encoded attachment (see mailto: and subject:): The attachments above are base64 encoded. If you don't know what that is then it might be best to get an email expert to explain the principle behind it for you. The attachments above are base64 encoded. If you don't know what that is then it might be best to get an email expert to explain the principle behind it for you. You can of course also get rid of the base64 encoding. The concept of base64 encoding is that each "group of 4" numbers can be interpreted as a single byte of the encoded message (but not the other way around). So the string M-I-H-T-T-L-O-N-G-Y-H-E-W-O-R-D can be encoded into the 6 bytes M-I-H-T-T-L-O-N-G-Y-H-E-W-O-R-D-A-S-E-R-E-P-A-S-E. To decode the above 6-byte base64 encoded string in Python 3.4.2: import base64 raw = 'M-I-H-T-T-L-O-N-G-Y-H-E-W-O-R-D-A-S-E-R-E-P-A-S-E' print(base64.b64decode(raw)) # => Trump Tweet Bible Studies Resources This article is a compilation of resources from sermons I have delivered.
